PRIEST WANTS A WARRANT. Father Coffey Would Prosecute Margaret L. Shepard.

Father James F. Coffey, pastor of St. John's Catholic Church, applied for a warrant yesterday against Margaret L. Shep ard, who is lecturing in St. Louis at Chatsworth Hall, relating her alleged experiences as a nun. After the lectures are over there is a sale of her book, relating further de-riving in the City for Saturday's Meeting.

ARE GETTING READY FOR THE SHOWDOWN

Congressmen Joy and Bartholdt Are Expected Friday-Time and Place of Conventions Bone of Contention.

Republican politicians from over the entire State are arriving in the city to get into the fray which is promised when the Republican State Committee meets next Saturday at the Lindell Hotel. The headquarters of the State Committee were crowded all day yesterday with visitors from the country. There were not quite so many at the headquarters of the National Committeeman, Kerens.

The factional fight inside the party will chairman is said to favor a late convention, perhaps during the latter part of June, or rather in July, after the Democratic con-

This alone is enough to bring out all the factionalism and strife inside the committee. The Kerens faction alleges that the State chairman is afraid of an early convention, while, on the other hand, the Akins faction is of the opinion that a great many more candidates can be "seen" by Kerens during a long campaign than a short one.

A Republican who is betwixt and between the two leaders remarked yesterday that an early convention, at least before the Demo crats have theirs, is the proper caper. we are forever going to hang on to the skirts of Democrats," he said, "we might just as well have a late convention. But if we are going to stand up for what we believe and fight the campaign with any sort of vigor we should get to work as soon as possible. We need a little more backbone than we have been having. Let the leaders go hang. Let us get into the campaign with anners flying."

Where to Hold Convention. There will be a contest over the location of the conventions. The attendance will be over 1,000, the largest in the history of the party. Springfield will have a delegation of thirty-four citizens on hand to press its claims. St. Joseph will send thirty-five so-licitors for one of the conventions. Joplin will also be on hand with dodgers and hustlers.

Kerens is said to favor Jefferson City for one of the conventions. This is on the Missouri Pacific Paliroad, somewhat of a consideration to the National Committeemen. He would like to have the other convention in the southwestern part of the State, preferably Carthage, the home of William H. Pheips. Springneld will not be objectionable to Colonel Kerens.

State Chairman Akins is not in favor of Jefferson City. Kansas City or St. Joseph would suit him just as well as it would not suit the National Committeemen. It is said that he would consent to Springfield. He will fight the selection of St. Louis to the bitter end, as he is afraid of the old Ziegenhein gang. It is very likely that Springfield and Kansas City or St. Joseph will be selected.

Preparatory to the Fight.

Judge Moses Whybark of Marble Hill has opened up headquarters at the Southern Hotel. He is after a Supreme Court nomination. B. B. Cahoon of Fredericktown is assisting him in this ambition. W. M. Smith and Joseph W. Caldwell, both of Marble Hill, are on hand to help boom Whybark. They are at work to offset the Mozely boom, which will be sprung Friday at the meeting of the Fourteenth Congressional Committee.

Committee.
Frank D. Roberts of Springfield, right bower of Chairman Akins, arrived yesterday and will assist in the politics of the State Committee. Joseph H. McCoy of Muscogee, recently appointed to a place in the Interior Department, is also here to attend the State Committee meeting. He will boom the State Committee meeting. He will boom the State chairman. P. C. Link of Bolivar, chairman of the P. C. Link of Bolvar, charman of the Polk County Committee, was also on hand. Mr. Akins comes from Humansville, Polk County, so that Mr. Link's business can be guessed without any great stretch of the imagination.

Secretary A. F. Shrings of the State Com-

Imagination.
Scoretary A. F. Shriner of the State Committee received a telegram yesterday from J. U. White of Brookfield asking that head-quarters be reserved for him at the Lindel during the meeting of the committee. He is a candidate for the Superintendent of Schools nomination. J. H. Lynch of Wright County is also accused of being a candidate. Congressional Troubles.

Congressional Troubles.

Congressmen Joy and Bartholdt are expected in St. Louis Friday in time for the meeting at the St. Louis Republican Club. Both of them have a burning desire to find out what is what in this neck of the woods. The announcement that Corwin H. Spencer could have the nomination in the Tenth District simply by a nod of his head has put the Bouth Side Congressman in a very unsatisfactory frame of mind.

Congressman Joy's interview in Washington relating to criticisms which have appeared in the Star excited comment yesterday. The possibility that he might be a candidate for renomination in the new Eleventh District had not occurred to many of the faithful. He is probably making a bluff for he effect it will have on some of his old supporters who have been showing off during the last fortnight.

A meeting of the Twelfth Congressional District will be held Thursday night at the Merchanty League Club, for the ostensible purpose of getting acquainted. A few candidates for appointments may be indorsed.

London, March 4.-In introducing the army estimates, #69,810,000 in the House of Commons to-day the War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, entered into a long defense of the War Office, which, he contended, had done its work well, considering that a war had never before been waged on such a scale as the South African war.

VOGUE OF THE RAISIN HAT. Introduced in St. Louis at Nugent's Millinery Opening.

Probably one of the season's most popular millinery creations will be the raisin hat, introduced to the St. Louis fashionable world by Madame Reynolds at the annual millinery opening at Nugent's this week. This hat, designed by the famous Camille Roger, a leader among Paris milliners, is trimmed with raisins of three shades, with specially woven ribbons of corresponding colors. Its popularity in St. Louis bids fair to rival its reception in New York and Paris.

Another of the new creations, attracting the attention of the crowds which throng the spacious parlors of this great store, is the Gibson widow hat, a novelty fashioned after the well-known style worn by the artists' charming widow, with its trimmings of jet beads and the long lace vellfalling in festoons over the back nearly to the waist.

These hats are merely picked from the bewlidering display, numbering more than 1,000 patterns, the largest ever shown by a St. Louis store. Other features of the opening are the imported chiffon and net sets, including neck piece, must and hat to match, and the London tailored hats, completing the most perfect assortment probably ever displayed.

The cloak and suit opening, which will continue throughout the week, is attracting wide notice by the completeness of the display, which includes gowns, suits, waists, separate shirts and wraps of every conceivable style. This season the tendency toward mannishness in the cut of the suits and gowns which prevailed last year gives way to a decided feminine style, especially in the gowns, which are chiefly made up of dainty veilings, net lace cropes and erminies, organdles, combined with the headers tilks, giving greater scope to the tailors. As with the millinery department, time or cost has not been taken into account to place the best examples of the handicraft of the famous modistes of the handicraft of the famous modistes of the world before the St. Louis public.

From this time on it is expected to pus the popular subscription in this State until at least $20,000 is raised. The organization is already at work in many States.
